Private hospital workers receive two-month unpaid wages, confirms Labour Ministry

Mohammed Darwish TDT | Manama

The Ministry of Labour confirmed yesterday that employees of a private hospital, which reduced its operations in August, have received their wages.

Salaries for July and August were paid, with the remaining payment for September expected by the end of the month.

The hospital, employing approximately 190 staff, including 50 Bahrainis, cut back major services after encountering financial troubles, leaving workers unpaid for two months.

Around 30 specialities, such as general surgery and obstetrics, were affected when the hospital shifted to outpatient care in late August.

In its statement, the Ministry confirmed that "all outstanding wages will be settled in line with Bahrain's labour laws."

The Ministry also noted efforts to find alternative employment for the affected Bahraini workers.

"Those still without work will receive compensation of 60 per cent of their insured wage for up to nine months, or until they secure new employment," the ministry stated.

'Crumbling homes' and dying heritage

Over 400 houses across Muharraq falling apart, leaving residents fearful for safety

nother derelict house in Muharraq collapsed Learlier this week, just missing pedestrians and raising concerns about the condition of other crumbling homes in the area.

The sight of bricks and debris strewn across the alleyways exposed a dangerous problem: hundreds of homes in the historic city are falling apart, posing a serious threat to residents and the city's heritage.

While immediate dangers are being addressed, long-term residents fearful and frustrated.

For residents like Aysha, who lives near the site of the recent collapse in Block 203, the fear is palpable.

"The situation is quite alarming," she says, gesturing towards the sagging roofs and peeling paint of nearby homes. "We wonder when one of these houses will finally cause a disaster. The authorities need to take action before someone gets hurt."

Her concerns are not unfounded. In April, the kitchen roof of a house in the same district caved in during heavy rains, nearly injuring an elderly resident and her domestic worker.

He notes frequent complaints about strange noises coming from these abandoned houses.

While Al Moqahwi acknowledges the Ministry's progress in areas such as Block 203 and Block 209, she notes the resistance from some families who are reluctant to move.

These homes, often their only place of residence, present a difficult choice.

Al Moqahwi stresses the need for a balanced approach, one that prioritises residents' safety without sacrificing the longterm future of the community's housing needs.

However, due to what he described as "irresponsible complaints" filed with various ministries by opposition groups, the school has been unable to hold the fair for the past two years.

had previously sentenced the individual to six months in prison and a fine of BD500.

The charges against the defendant stemmed from his actions in 2021 and 2022, where he allegedly attempted to claim funds from Tamkeen's national employment programme, specifically the wage support programme.

The defendant was accused of submitting fraudulent documents to Tamkeen, claiming that two women were employed by his company, despite them not actually working there.

The Public Prosecution argued that the defendant's actions constituted an attempt to misappropriate public funds.

The prosecution presented evidence, including testimony from Tamkeen employees who underscored that the defendant had submitted applications for wage support for the two women, but the support was ultimately withheld after the fraud was detected.

China launches intercontinental missile into Pacific in rare test

China said it test-Ulaunched an intercontinental ballistic missile yesterday, firing it into the Pacific Ocean in its first such exercise in decades.

The launch sparked protests from other countries in the region, with China's neighbour Japan saving it had not been given advance notice and expressing "serious concern" about Beijing's military build-up.

Beijing has stepped up its nuclear development and boosted defence spending in recent years, with the Pentagon warning last October China was developing its arsenal more quickly than the United States had anticipated.

China held more than 500 operational nuclear warheads as of May 2023 and is likely to have more than 1,000 by 2030, it said.

The Chinese military's Rocket Force "launched an ICBM... carrying a dummy warhead to the high seas in the Pacific Ocean at 08:44 on September 25, and the missile fell into expected sea areas" yesterday, the defence ministry said in a statement.

An analyst told AFP such tests were very rare.

"This is extremely unusual and likely the first time in decades that we've seen a test like this," said Ankit Panda, Stanton Senior Fellow at the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace.

"(The test) likely speaks to China's ongoing nuclear modernisation manifesting in new requirements for testing," he added.

- 'Serious concern' -However, China's defence ministry called the firing a "routine arrangement in our annual training plan". "It is in line with international law and international practice and is not directed against any country or target," it said. Japan, however, said it was given "no notice from the Chinese side in advance", with a government spokesman adding that Beijing's military build-up was a "serious concern".

Australia said it was seeking "an explanation" over the launch, adding it was "concerned by any action that is destabilising and raises the risk of miscalculation in the region".

Bahrain stumbles against Cambodia in AFC U20 qualifier

Hussain Almaskati TDT | Manama

Following their 1-0 win against Chinese Taipei on Saturday, Bahrain's U20 squad entered the third round of the AFC U20 Asian Cup Qualification with high hopes, but they stumbled in a frustrating 0-1 loss to Cambodia.

The match, held at Fu Jen University in New Taipei yesterday, saw Bahrain dominate possession but ultimately fall to a 68th-minute goal from Cambodia's Mean Chanrith.

This defeat puts Bahrain in third place in Group B, leaving their path to qualification more challenging than expected.
