Ahead of Hindi Divas on September 14, actress Sara Khan said she has a strong command of the language and can speak Sanskrit well. Sara says: "Hindi has always been my language; It is an important part of who I am as an Indian. I have been speaking Hindi since birth, so it is natural and close to my heart. I don't need to explain it further but I will share one thing, I am very patriotic about my language and culture." "I have a strong command of Hindi and I also speak Sanskrit very well. Sometimes, I inadvertently make people around me self-conscious because I am so fluent in the language," she added. Sara, who played Goddess Kritikayin in the show "Chhatti Maiyya Ki Bithiya", plays six different avatars in the show. "Portrait of Goddess Krittikayain requires the use of pure Hindi along with some Sanskrit words, which is challenging but highly rewarding," asserts the actress.

Rashmika Mandanna, who is awaiting the release of her upcoming potential box-office juggernaut, has revealed that she had a minor accident. However, the actress has recovered well from the injury. The actress also shared that she was consuming a lot of brownies during her recovery. On Monday, the actress took to her Instagram and shared a photo of herself wearing glasses and making a goofy face. She also wrote a long note in the caption, where she wrote, "Hey guys, how are you? I know it's been a while since I've been here or seen in public. The reason I have not been so active in the past month is because I had a small accident, (minor) and I am recovering and I am staying at home as the doctors have told me."

Actress Malavika Mohanan, who is receiving good response for her work in the Hindi version of her recently released film 'Thangalan', shares that she prefers to stay away from social media and minimizes her screen time during shoots. possibleThe actress said that spending too much time on social media is affecting her work negatively. "Too much scrolling on my phone depresses me (laughs). I can see it affecting my work in the sense that on days when I spend a lot of time on social media, my mind struggles to focus on a scene. The actress said that the brain fog started due to social media, technology use or screen exposure that she noticed during the past year. She further said, "When I'm doing a film, I try to stay away from phones as much as possible, even if you get bored, it's okay, get bored, but it allows you to focus on your work".

Karishma Tanna channeled her inner "desi girl" as she posed in a lavender colored saree.

Karisma took to Instagram where she shared two pictures of herself in a lavender shaded saree with a white scalloped lace border and nine yards of white detailing. She completed her look with diamond studs and a bracelet.

For her hair, she opted for a neat bun with flowers in her hair and went for a soft look with nude makeup.

For the caption, Karishma wrote: "Feeling saree."

Last month, Karisma went on a vacation to Mykonos to celebrate her husband Varun Bhangera's birthday.

Karisma took to Instagram on August 28 to share romantic pictures with Varun.

Karisma wrote: "Happy birthday to my dear husband, the love of my life! Every day with you is a beautiful adventure, and I am so grateful to have you by my side. Your kindness, strength and sense of humor gets better every moment and I feel so blessed to call you mine."
